

BREC offers a junior golf team concept
Developmental Golf League
Boys & Girls; 6 - 9 Year Old & 10 -13 Year Old

Designed for juniors ages 6 to 13 who are basically new to the game and wish to begin playing in a team format much like Little League or Soccer. Assigned to 8 player teams, complete with team uniforms, there will be instructional orientations designed to educate juniors how to play in this light competitive environment. Then, a week long schedule of matches. All designed to offer these juniors a quick season in the team golf concept.

It must be noted this is not an instructional program that teaches juniors how to play golf per se, but rather is a program that teaches them how to play in a competitive environment suitable to their level of play. Juniors should receive instruction in another program that is designed for learning how to hit full shots, putts, and chip shots. If juniors can manage a golf swing that generally makes contact with the ball, can manage to advance the ball, demonstrate the ability to keep pace and move to the next shot with minor supervision, and exhibits general putting skills, then they should sign up for the league.

We permit parental involvement in the initial stages, but gradually move them back a level or two in order to allow the junior to truly develop and become more adept in playing competitively. Schedule of program on back.
